

WEST
BIG DATA
INNOVATION
HUB

Data Ethics: Curricula + Community Engagement

Meredith Lee, Executive Director
@mmlee | mmlee@berkeley.edu

@westbigdatahub | westbigdatahub.org | #BDHubs

build and strengthen partnerships across industry, academia, nonprofits, government to address societal + scientific challenges, spur economic development,

and accelerate innovation in the big data ecosystem

What does responsible data sharing look like – for a data scientist, a parent, a business?

How are our socioeconomic structures and methods of interaction shaping behavior?

How might we translate findings into actionable principles?

DATA SCIENCE

It's Time for Data Ethics Conversations at Your Dinner Table

Twitter LinkedIn Facebook Email

March 23, 2018

This opinion piece has been contributed by Lucy C. Erickson, Natalie Evans Harris and Meredith M. Lee, three members of the D4GX community. All three authors contributed equally to this piece.

More than 160 'tech + ethics' courses

Community
roundtables, events

Slack channel

Call to Action cross-posted on DataScience.com,
data.berkeley.edu,
social media

bit.ly/dataethicsconvo

Include, iterate.
Community drives process...
Thoughtful, together.

#DataEthicsOath #D4GX #BDHubs #haiku